After the Battle.

The first thing to be said of the results of the electrons of Tuesday is that they failed to decide the next presidential election. All the Democratic victories and are of such a nature as to leave the condiall the Republican victories of this year elections had taken place. Pennsylvania, Iows, Massachusetts, and Ohio are still to be regarded as strongholds of the Republican party. New York still grandly stands up for the Democratic party. But in most of these States there is still a "fighting chance" for the party which was defeated this year, and the leaders of the two great parties will soon proceed to act upon this assumption and organize their forces for the coming presidential battle.

The first duty of Virginians is to their State and section. The southern people cannot afford to divide in view of the results of Tuesday's elections. The people of the North are still hostile to "rebels" of the South, and ready to adopt measure which will perpetuate the rule of the Republican party. The mode of perpetuating that rule had already been ed upon before Tuesday's elections Heaven, the Democrats will control the next national House of Representatives, and so the South is safe for at least two years more. But all the same there is danger shead. The northern Republicans will surely redistrict their States for the election of congressmen as well as provide by law for the choice of electors for President by general ticket. These two measures will work infinite wrong to the southern people. The fact that the Republicans threaten us with such measures ought to stimulate us to renewed exertions in the political battle-field and make us instant in season and out of season in adopting whatever measures promise most effectually to save us from being injured, oppressed, and down-trodden. The grand old Democratic party still stands between us and harm, and, as we have stated, will so stand for the next two years, we know. Let us so act as to make all we do count in favor of that, the only national party in

As to candidates for the Democratic FELL and Patrison are no longer possibilities. Each lost his own State—Campbell as a candidate; Partison because he was the representative of the Democratic party BELL, of Massachusetts, and Bores, of paign.-The State. lowa. These gentlemen, it is evident, could not carry their States in a presidential election. Those States are joined to their idols and cannot be persuaded to become results. Democratic. Bores and Russell differ from CAMPBELL and PATTISON in not having suffered defeat last Tuesday. They seem to be rather stronger than their party. But, all the same, they cannot now be called promising presidential timber.

"The stars in their courses" fight for New York. The results of Tuesday's elections seem to leave New York State master of the situation; or rather such would be the case if New York had a "favorite son" who could go into the Democratic National Convention with his own State solidly for him, As it is, what shall we say? New York would seem to be the State from which the next Democratic nominee for President ought to be taken; but the Democrats of New York cannot convince the rest of the States that they are united upon a candidate. Hill will go to the next Democratic National Convention backed by his State. Such at least seems to be the probable outcome of the present condition of things. But CLEVELAND will go to the next Democratic National Convention backed by more of the other States than can be brought up to the support of HILL. At least, this promises to be the event. But as the reason-the only reason-for favoring a New York aspi rant to the presidency is the fact that the wishes of her people must be consulted. CLEVELAND will be handicapped in the national convention by the fact that his own State prefers HILL. HILL's friends may insist upon it that to nominate CLEVELAND have not asked the National Convention to do. But New York may drop both HILL and CLEVELAND, and take a new man, and thus unite the two factions. This last is what the logic of the situation would seem to point out as the final outcome.

The Elections and Silver-We stated the day before the elections that unfortunately the silver question tower of the Madison-Square Gawould not be settled by them. We had "Young BENNETT" is at home again. previously said that CAMPBELL had his eye upon Wall street and the presidency, and would thereby lose votes. If he injured the Democratic party of Ohio by his course he has been reproved for it. The people like a man who is on but one ide of a question. They do not like trimmers. We said before the election nor are that if CAMPERL was defeated he should stands. lay his defeat to his failure to stand up everywhere and always as he did some times to the free-coinage creed his party professed in the platform of the State con-TAN and Vocastass to victory. To pretend the while we will be sure to win the victor believe that the people of Ohio defeated tory next year. Mr. CAMPBELL because of his free silver views is what we shall not do. On the contrary, it we were to express an opinion on the subject it would be that had he admoney he would to-day have been a promi-nest candidate for President of the United

At present it would seem that the Demo-eratic party could not next year come out in favor of the free coinage of silver in its national platform. We shall soon have something to say on this point.

Their Strength Unmasked. There are many features of Tuesday's lections in Virginia which will bear study with the promise of profit.

One of these is the remarkable disappearance of the strength of not a few In-these self-nominated candidates, while posing as a Democrat, confidently counted upon getting the support of all the black voters of his district, and at the very same time he was claiming to be the candidate. time he was claiming to be the candidate of the white men and alleged his belief that he would receive as many white votes as his regularly-nominated competitor.

Lo and behold, when the colored vote was withdrawn from the field by an order from headquarters, his strength vanished, like sora after a hoar frost.

We had long been anxious to see a test such as this. It carries with it its own moral, and yet had the self-nomines been elected by the voters who "abstained" from the polls he would without a doubt have claimed that he was the choice of the majority of white men. Over and over again has this thing been done.

It is also significant that while in some counties the orders of General Mahone were obeyed with great alacrity and unanimity, in other places they were without effect. We should argue from this that the little General has not lost all of his influence with his party. He is still very strong in the black counties, and we have tions of the presidential election of next him in a few days cia Washington, perthey were before Tuesday's haps, claiming the results of our elections

Thank tion in Pennsylvania and other Republican States we said that it was not likely that two Democrat victories in succession would occur in a Republican State such as Pennsylvania. The result on Tuesday was in strict accordance with this dictum. The Republicans carried the State by a sweeping majority. As to Iowa we pointed out that in that State prohibition was still a living issue, and might pre vent the State from electing a Republican Governor this year. As to Massachusetts we argued that the fact that the Democratic stronghold was Boston, a large city, differentiated Massachusetts from Pennsylvania, whose largest city was Republican, and rendered possible the re-election of the Democratic Governor. We at the same time put New York amongst the States which would vote the Democratic ticket on Tuesday, and gave reasons why both HILL and CLEVELAND must loyally work, speak, and vote for FLOWER. Nevertheless we claim no other credit for our forecast than the fact that it seems to have been based upon a principle or rule nomination for the presidency of the applicable everywhere, and for that rea-United States, it may be said that Campbon, and that only, worthy of being recalled hereafter.

At one time there were many good souls who had misgivings as to how it would all end; but now, thanks to wise leadership and a patriotic people, the clouds are passed and we are basking in the sunshine of that success which comes from having an overwhelming majority of sterling, unflinehing Democrats in each house.

New York city failed to fulfil all the expectations of the Democrats on Tuesday.
The cause is not plain. It gave Flower a but little more than it gave CLEVELAND in the same year. But Kings county, where great dissensions were reported to prevail, came up nobly, and the party showed surprising gains in the up-country districts.

"it was simply a Tammany" victory which gave the Democrats the Governor and both branches of the Legislature. If so, Tammany is to be commended, and no Democrat should join in the cry "Down with Tammany!"

The election of FLOWER is a great triumph, but for New York to have a Democratic Governor and Legislature, too. means that there will be a proper reapportionment, and that the State for a long time hereafter will have a Democratic government-a government representative of the wishes of the majority of its peo-

A TIME HONOIRD CUSTOM ABOLISHED.

Mr. James Keagan, of the St. John Hotel, has secured from the Chesapeake and Ohio Kailway Company the exclusive right to sell iunches on the platform and along the tracks of the railroad at this place. This has caused the utmost indignation on the part of the colored population, who have pursued this avocation undisturbed for so many years that they have come to be considered an inevitable appurtenance of Gordonsville's fame. A hardboiled egg with crossed chicken-legs has long been known as our armoral device. Surely the world must be wagging in sad ways when these ancient and honorable bearings are to be blotted out! We respectfully request a visit from our triends and the public generally. Our stock is new and fresh, and our BROADCLOTHS and BEDFORD CORDS are lovely. Our domestic stock teems with STAPLE GOODS, and the CLOAKS are marvels of beauty and cheapness. We can sell goods as cheap as any house in town. Come and see us and be convinced. Don't forget, we do the same excellent STAMPING as did Henry Wenzel, and also, are agents for the Old Staten Island Dyeing Establishment, of New York.
